Office of the Inspector General of Education in Mysore, Bangalore, 22 February 1910

26

Dear Sir,

With reference to your D O letter No 7125 /Ed 197-09 dated 15th February 1910, I cordially agree with you that the Syndicate should be addressed on the subject of the State Colleges and High Schools being placed on the same footing as similar institutions in Madras with regard to the University Vacation Lectures As a matter of fact a few of the Masters of District High Schools who applied independently were actually admitted to the lectures last Christmas, so that the order of exclusion does not seem to be due to want of accommodation

Dr Bourne told me in the course of conversation that the reason why masters of the Mysore Schools and Colleges are to be excluded from the Vacation Lectures is that the expense incurred in connection with the lectures is not met from University Funds proper, but from a special grant to the University for this specific purpose, and that the Syndicate thought that the Mysore Government might feel some delicate scruples about accepting a gift from the Madras Government. I told him that I thought it would have been better if he had ascertained the actual wishes of the Mysore Government before the Syndicate passed their resolution.

I do not see why there should be any scruples in this matter at all I understand that when the Government of India a few years ago imposed a general duty on goods imported into India and increased the duty on certain other articles, no portion of the amount so realised was allocated to the Native States in respect of the imported goods which find their way into the Native States for consumption there But it is ultimately due to the amount realized by this new or additional taxation that it has been possible to spend so much on the improvement of education in British India in recent years If this is correct then the Native States have a right to share in the grants for the improvement of education.

Yours sincerely,

37	It is now clear that the right to demand admission to our teachers to the vacation lectures, can not be pressed, as the expenditure in connection with these lectures is said to be borne by the Govt (Madras) and not the University The offer of the Syndicate to organize such lectures in Mysore can not also, ~~It is feared~~ it is feared be availed of as the expenditure is likely to be very great and we may not be able to assemble, in sufficiently large numbers, teachers who could benefit by such lectures ~~But~~ If it is, however, considered necessary, the further inquiries

To

C S Balasurdaram Iyer Esq , B A , Offg Secretary to the Goverrment of H H the Maharaja of Mysore, General and Reverue Departments, Bangalore

SIR ,

Wit reference to your letter No 9947 / Ed 197-09-7 dated 3 May 1910, I have the honor to state my opinion on the points raised as follows -

1 The Mysore Education Department can organize lectures for teachers in Mysore There are men in the department who are quite as competent to deliver such lectures as most of those sele ed to lecture in Madras, and if the terms offered by Government a the same as in Madras I do not anticipate any objection on the pa of the lecturers to accept the offer

2 The only advantage in requesting the University to arrange for such lectures in Mysore would be to relieve the e- partment of the extra trouble But the saving in trouble would not be very great, as a considerable portion of the correspondence would require to be done the University through this office On the other hand the University would probably select lecturers for Madras, and this would have the disadvantages (1) of increasing the expense to Government and (2) of giving a blow at the prestige of the educational officer of this State

3 The advantages of having the lectures in Madras instead of Bangalore are (1) that our teachers are brought into contact with their colleagues in Madras, for in the interchange of ideas with men in similar situations, occupied with similar problems there is no great an educative influence as in the lectures themselves and (2) that the school boys in Mysore will probably have more confidence in teachers who have attended lectures in Madras, believing rightly or wrongly that such teachers have received the latest examination tips If however a school leaving certificate takes the place of the Matriculation examination in Mysore as in Madras the second advantage in favour of Madras will disappear first advantage of securing interchange of ideas with other schoolmasters can be gained to a certain extent by throwing the lectures in Mysore open to aided schools as well as Government schools, and, if there are seats available, by reserving a few places for teachers in recognised schools in the Madras Presidency

The great advantage in favour of Bangalore is the climate Under the new regulations the Christmas holidays will be much shorter than hitherto, and there will scarcely be time for such lectures at that time of year In future the lectures must be held in April or May, and the teachers who attend the lectures will do far better work in Bangalore or Mysore than in Madras or Trichinopoly

4 As regards cost the following information is available The main items of expenditure in connection with the lectures are (1) Remuneration to lecturers, and Assistant lecturers, (2) travelling and halting allowances, (3) printing, stationery and other surdry contingent expenses

In 1906 there were three courses of lectures in Mathematics at Madras, Trichinopoly and Rajamundry and the total expense was Rs 2049-7-0

In 1907 there were four courses of lectures in Mathematics at Madras, Trichinopoly, Rajamundry and Coimbatore, and the total expense was Rs 3706-13-6 as follows -

Travelling charges	Rs 1373-8-0
Honoraria to Lecturers	Rs 1950-0-0
Stationery &c	Rs 383-4-6

In 1908 there were eight courses of lecturers at Madras and and Trichinopoly in Physics, Chemistry, History and Geography, and the total cost amounted to about Rs 9000

In 1909 the total cost of the eight courses of lectures was Rs 8304-7-8 The detailed items of expenditure on Lecturers were as follows -

Physics and Chemistry---	4 Lecturers	@ 500-----	Rs 2000
	4 Demonstrators	@ 150-----	Rs 600
	10 Assistants	@ 100-----	Rs 1000
History and Geography-----	4 Lecturers	@ 300-----	Rs 1200
	9 Assistants	@ 50-----	Rs 450
			5250

The average total cost of each course of lectures is approximately one thousand rupees If the lectures are held in Bangalore instead of Madras there will be a saving to Government of the travelling expenses of teachers attending the lectures The cost of travelling allowance for lectures in Madras will be in most cases the cost of the journey to Bangalore plus the cost of the journey from Bangalore to Madras But if the lectures are held in Bangalore the cost of the journey from Bangalore to Madras and back will be saved That is a saving of Rs 41 per head, so that the saving on a class of 25 would more than pay for the cost of the lectures in Bangalore If it is decided to hold the lectures in Bangalore it will not be necessary to have more than two or three courses each year

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

Irwin
